The Past, Present and Future of Research on L2 Writing and L2 Speech

Natsuko Shintani & Kazuya Saito

Focusing on our research expertise/programme in L2 writing (Shintani) and L2 speech (Saito), we will first provide an overview on what kinds of issues have been researched/understood relative to those which have still remained controversial to date. Next, we will share our view on how the field (and our own research) will grow in the future while inviting the audience to critically discuss a list of topics with ample pedagogical, practical and theoretical relevance to the international community (thus worthy of publication in international journals).
